In 1880 on p. 441 the postmaster of Carbondale in 1849 is listed as being Joseph Gillespie. This Joseph Gillespie is, in all probability, the brother of Jeanette Gillespie Locke.

Similarly, the Joseph Gillespie who is listed in 1880 (p. 451) as being one of the charter members of the Lackawanna Encampment, No. 16 of Odd Fellows (which was instituted on February 24, 1845) is, in all probability, the brother of Jeanette Gillespie Locke.

In an autograph book that was given to WAR at Christmas in 1884 is to be seen the following inscription:

"Mrs. Margaret Gillespie
Scranton, Pa."

This is perhaps Mrs. Joseph Gillespie (née Margaret Johnstone) of Scranton, Pa.--who could have still been alive during the 1880s and/or 1890s (when most of the inscriptions were written in the autograph book in question).
